OVERVIEW

Parents and school staff usually agree upon issues regarding evaluation, eligibility, program, and placement of students with disabilities. However, there are times when disagreement occurs.

Disagreements and conflict are often inevitable, but they need not produce negative results. If the parent and school are unable to resolve a conflict concerning a student with a disability, then mediation is an available alternative to a long and expensive due process hearing.

Conflict is often inevitable, but it need not produce negative results.

The mediator is a neutral third party and, therefore, has no power to make a decision regarding the dispute. He or she will listen to the views of each party and will assist in developing an acceptable solution to the problem. The mediator has been trained in a communication process to handle special education disputes.

Mediation is completely voluntary. It should not interfere with any procedural safeguards, including a request for a due process hearing.

MEDIATION IN SPECIAL EDUCATION

Mediation in special education is a process to assist parents and schools in resolving disagreements regarding the education program of a student with disabilities.

adversative meeting that is more structured than a parent-school conference but less formal than a due process hearing.

Mediation is a voluntary process. It is optional for both parties. The mediation session is completely confidential and encourages open communication.

ADVANTAGES OF MEDIATION

The purpose of mediation is to provide an optional alternative to a due process hearing and provide a means to resolve disagreements between parents and school personnel. In virtually all cases, mediation is less costly and adversative than a due process hearing and is completely voluntary for both parties.

Mediation helps both parties let go of the past and focus on what is best for the student in the future.

Mediation can do the following:

- Identify disagreements concerning the identification, evaluation, or educational placement of a student.
- Clarify the issues causing the disagreement.
- Provide those involved with uninterrupted opportunities to present their points of view.

Mediation helps both parties let go of the past and focus on what is best for the student in the future.

• Stimulate mutual problem-solving efforts.

or school.

- Promote positive working relationships between parents and school personnel.
- Help parents and school personnel focus on what they have in common—the student—rather than on the issues that divide them.

THE COST OF MEDIATION

Mediation can take place at no cost to the parents. The BIE/ASC and/ or school pay the costs related to mediation. Section 504 mediation will be a school expense. However, parties who choose to involve their attorneys are responsible for their own attorney fees. Any incidental costs are the school's responsibility.

The ultimate responsibility for the administration of the mediation process is with the BIE/ASC. The BIE/ASC will ensure that mediators throughout the Bureau system are trained on effective mediation strategies.

REQUESTING MEDIATION

A request for mediation may occur when parents and schools reach an impasse after having made good faith efforts to resolve their differences. A request for mediation will most likely occur when parties are unable to modify their positions without outside assistance. Mediation can be requested by the parents or school.

Mediation may occur on any issue considered appropriate for a due process hearing or complaint investigation. Mediation may occur prior to or concurrent with a request for a due process hearing or filing of a complaint. However, it may not, in any way, interfere with the right to a due process hearing. Mediation is not a necessary step prior to a due process hearing. It is an optional alternative to a due process hearing.

AGREEING TO MEDIATION

Mediation is voluntary for both parties. Unless both parties agree to mediation as a way to resolve their disagreement, a mediation session cannot be scheduled. Once the parents and school agree to mediation, the school and parents complete the mediation agreement request form (pages 9 and 10) and send it to the BIE/ASC.

APPOINTMENT OF A MEDIATOR

The BIE/ASC maintains a list of trained mediators. The BIE/ASC appoints a neutral mediator from that list who carries out all of the mediation activities.

THE MEDIATION PROCESS

Once appointed, the mediator will set the date, time, and location for the session and determine who will participate in the session. At that time, the mediator will answer any questions about the process and may request additional information from both parties.

MEDIATORS

Individuals selected to serve as mediators have successfully completed a training program in mediation with additional training in special education issues. In addition to the initial training, mediators will participate in regularly scheduled inservice sessions to ensure updating of appropriate information and skills.

Mediators are selected on the basis of these qualifications:

- Neutrality, both real and perceived
- Knowledge of special education and the needs of students
- Knowledge of the process of mediation
- Appropriate personal communication skills

THE ROLE OF THE MEDIATOR

The mediator is a neutral third party acting as a facilitator to assist parents and school personnel in reaching an agreement.

Although the mediator is in control of the session, he/she does not make the decision on how to resolve the issue(s). The mediator allows parties to present their positions and attempts to achieve mutual understanding and a solution to the problem in the best interests of the student.

The mediator allows parties to present their positions and attempts to achieve mutual understanding and a solution to the problem in the best interests of the student.

The mediator facilitates the process. He or she summarizes positions and helps the parties consider possible alternatives.

THE ROLE OF PARENTS AND THE SCHOOL

The parties are expected to approach the mediation in good faith and with the intention of reaching an agreement. They will be active participants in the session and, if mediation is successful, will develop an agreement with the assistance of the mediator.

THE ROLE OF LEGAL COUNSEL

The parties understand that mediation is not a substitute for independent legal advice. The parties may secure independent legal advice throughout the mediation process. The parties are responsible for their own legal fees.

PREPARING FOR A MEDIATION SESSION

- Make no other plans for the day or evening of the mediation.
- Review all relevant documents, papers, and reports prior to the session.
- Organize your information and any materials before the mediation session.
- Think of possible alternatives/ways of solving the problem.
- Think about what you want to get out of the session.
- Think about what you want the other party to do.
- Think about what you are willing to do.
- Be willing to listen and compromise.
- Put aside personality conflicts and focus on the student's best interest.

PARTICIPANTS IN THE MEDIATION SESSION

The number of participants at each mediation session will be kept to an absolute minimum in order to enhance the potential for effective problem solving.

At the session, the parties to the dispute—the parent(s) and the school's representative(s)—must have the authority to make decisions and to commit any resources agreed upon as the result of the mediation.

The mediator makes the final decision on who will attend the mediation session.

THE LENGTH OF MEDIATION

Mediation sessions could take up to a full day. Generally, however, sessions can be completed in three to four hours depending upon the complexity of the issue(s). It is recommended that participants plan to set aside a full day even though the session is likely to conclude in a shorter period of time.

THE MEDIATION SESSION

The mediation session consists of several phases:

- 1. INTRODUCTION—The mediator begins the session promptly and explains the mediation process and the ground rules of the session to all participants.
- 2. JOINT SESSION—Both parties in the dispute are given an opportunity to present the issue(s) from their point of view without interruption. Only the mediator may ask questions or summarize what has been said.
- 3. CAUCUS—The mediator may use the caucus, which is an opportunity for each party to meet privately with the mediator to further clarify issues and positions. The mediator will not share information from the caucus without consent.
- 4. AGREEMENT—When the parties reach an agreement, the mediator assists in explaining solutions to the problem. The parties determine the terms of the agreement, and the mediator puts the agreement in writing. The mediation agreement is signed by both parties and the mediator. At the conclusion of the session, each party receives a copy. If a mediation session results in an agreement that would require changes to a student's IEP, an IEP committee should be convened as soon as possible to consider the incorporation of elements of the agreement into the student's IEP.

Not all mediation sessions result in agreements. If an agreement is not reached, the mediator will certify to the parties and the BIE/ASC, in writing, that the mediation has been unsuccessful.

The discussion during the mediation session is completely confidential, and there will be no disclosure of any information given by either party. At the conclusion of the session, and in the presence of the parties, the mediator may destroy any notes he/she has taken during the session. The only part of the mediation session that may be shared with other persons is the written agreement.

The mediator will be excluded from participation in subsequent proceedings—staffings, complaint investigations, and due process hearings. Nothing occurring at a mediation session is admissible as evidence in a due process hearing. The written agreement may be admissible in subsequent proceedings.

No electronic recording of mediation sessions will be allowed, and no records of the proceedings will be kept other than written agreements in successful mediations.

CONCLUSION

The purpose of mediation in special education is to provide an alternative to a due process hearing or complaint procedure investigation as a way to resolve conflicts, clarify issues, and stimulate mutual problem-solving efforts between parents and school personnel. Even if an agreement is not reached, there is the potential of both parties leaving the session with an enhanced perspective of the issues and with the focus on the student. Most mediations result in better communication between the school and parents. This leads to an improved situation for the student.

DISCLOSURE AND STANDARDS OF MEDIATION

Mediation is a conflict resolution process in which an impartial third party facilitates participants' negotiating of a voluntary agreement. In mediation, decision-making authority rests at all times with the parties. These standards are intended to assist and guide special education mediation in school throughout the BIE/ASC.

Mediators have duties to the parties, to their profession, and to themselves. They should be honest and unbiased, act in good faith, be diligent, and never seek to advance their own interests at the expense of the parties.

Mediators must act fairly in dealing with mediation participants, have no personal interest in the terms of any settlement agreement, have no bias toward any individual or institution involved in mediation, be reasonably available as requested by mediating parties, and be certain that the parties are informed about the mediation process in which they are involved.

Impartiality

The mediator must maintain impartiality toward all parties. Impartiality means freedom from favoritism or bias either by work or by action and a commitment to serve all mediation participants as opposed to a single party. The mediator should disclose to the participants any affiliations that the mediator may have with any participant and obtain all parties' consent to proceed as mediator.

Informed Consent

Each party's consent to proceed with mediation should be obtained early, prior to the beginning of substantive negotiations.

Confidentiality

Maintaining confidentiality is critical to the integrity of the mediation process. Confidentiality encourages candor, a full exploration of the issues, and the possibilities of settlement. The mediator should resist testifying and disclosing other information about the substance of a mediation at any proceeding without the consent of all mediating parties.

Suspension or Termination of Mediation

The mediator shall inform the participants of their rights to withdraw from mediation at any time and for any reason, except as is required by law. If the parties reach a final impasse, the mediator should not prolong unproductive discussions that result in emotional and monetary costs to the participants.

Comparison to Other Processes

The mediator shall explain that mediation is not arbitration, legal representation, or therapy and that the mediator will not decide any issues for the parties.

Independent Advice and Information

The parties understand that mediation is an agreement-reaching process in which the mediator assists parties to reach agreement in a collaborative and informed manner. It is understood that the mediator has no power to decide disputed issues for the parties. The parties understand that mediation is not a substitute for independent legal advice. The parties are encouraged to secure such advice throughout the mediation process and are strongly advised to obtain independent legal review of any formal mediated agreement before signing that agreement. The parties understand that the mediator has an obligation to work on behalf of all parties and that the mediator cannot render individual legal advice to any party and will not render therapy or arbitrate within the mediation.

Opportunity for Full Expression of Interests

The mediator shall seek to provide each mediation participant with a full opportunity to effectively express his or her interests.

A mediator shall participate in continuing training provided by the BIE/ASC. A mediator is encouraged to join with other mediators and members of related professions to promote mutual professional development.
